

Find your fit: inclusive swimwear for all bodies

Welcome! At our swimming club, everybody deserves to feel safe, seen, and celebrated, in and out of the water. Whether you're trans, non-binary, cis, intersex, genderfluid, or exploring, you belong here.

We know that swimwear can be a stressful topic. Maybe you want something that flattens your chest or affirms your shape. Maybe trunks feel wrong, but speedos aren't your vibe either. Maybe you've Googled "swim binder" too many times and still ended up with a soggy sports bra.

That's why we made this list:

A simple, community-curated directory of online shops offering swimwear for all kinds of bodies and gender expressions. No ads, no fluff, just options that work.

We want you to feel confident, comfy, and ready to swim, whether it's your first training or your fiftieth.

A quick note before you dive in:

This list is here to make your search a little easier but it's not a stamp of approval from GSA. The links below include brands that offer swimwear options that could work for our training, not that everything they sell will.

When choosing what to wear, please make sure your swimwear:

- Fits snugly to the body (no loose clothing),
- Is made from swim-appropriate material,
- Isn't see-through or overly revealing, and
- Keep all intimate parts securely covered while you swim.

Basically: if it's comfy, safe, and helps you move freely in the water, you're good to go.
